

What is the future of UK psychiatry?

A One Day Conference organised by the UK Critical Psychiatry Network.

University of Nottingham, 16 April 2015

Following successful one day conferences in 2013 and 2014, and continuing concerns about the nature, provenance and consequences of contemporary psychiatric practice, The UK Critical Psychiatry Network has organised a further opportunity for psychiatrists to consider how their practices might develop. There will also be ample opportunity to meet like-minded colleagues. The conference will be preceded by a dinner on the evening of April 15th. Overnight accommodation at the on-campus Orchards Hotel can be arranged.
